September 19, 2024

This paper conducts brief analysis on the marriages in Toronto from 2015 - 2020 mainly using data from opendatatoronto.

1 Introduction

You can and should cross-reference sections and sub-sections. We use R Core Team (2023), Gelfand (2022), and Wickham et al. (2019).

The remainder of this paper is structured as follows. Section 2

2 Data

Some of our data is of marriage (Figure 1), from Gelfand (2022).

The number of marriage licenses appears to have density of points under 500 before 2020. However, there is also points randomly distributed around 500-100 during the five years.

3 Discussion

3.1 First discussion point

If my paper were 10 pages, then should be at least 2.5 pages. The discussion is a chance to show off what you know and what you learnt from all this.

*Code and data are available at: LINK.
